FRANCE.

(Population 32,921,715)

The population of France today is much larger than it has been in the past, and the birth rate, which has long declined, has begun to rise. This has been somewhat offset by a decrease in the death rate, so that the population of France is still increasing. The capital city of Paris is the largest city in Europe, with a population of over 9 million people.

HOSTILITY TO CATHOLIC CHURCH DUE TO MISSTAKEN ASSUMPTIONS

H. THE GOSPEL RELIGION

By Theodore Freeski

The Catholic Church, in its efforts to spread the Gospel message, has often been misunderstood and opposed. The Church's teaching on various topics, such as the nature of God and the afterlife, has sometimes been interpreted in ways that are at odds with the Church's teachings. In this article, the author explores the reasons behind this hostility and the ways in which the Church can address these misunderstandings.

HUNTINGTON, INDIANA, JULY 23, 1922

Dearest Beloved Son: Health and Apostolic Benediction! There are two things which, among others, commend to us the Catholic paper Our Sunday Visitor, in editing which you have for many years entirely devoted yourself: the first is the task proposed to you so to spread and explain Catholic doctrine that you might attract Catholics more closely to it, and that you might win over non-Catholics; and secondly, the highly commendatory testimony which, we are told, same paper has received from our Catholic friends in happy memory, Pius X., and also from other persons of high, irreproachable authority.

The one shows you to be a good dispenser of God's mysteries, the other proves that in this holy undertaking you are following the right path and are working with abundant fruit.

Why, therefore, to the praises you have already received should not also be added Our Visitor's commendation? Indeed, it pleases us to do so in order to help you in your race you are running. We beseech you to add your apostolic benediction by the help of Divine grace your love and those of those whom God has chosen to labor in this work.

Given at Rome, at St. Peter's, the eleventh day of March, 1917, the third year of Our Pontificate.

BENEDICT XV. Pope.

Apostolic Delegation, 1811 Hittite St., Washington, D. C., April 27, 1912.

The nature of your work leads to supply, in a popular and practical way, the teachings of both the Catholics and non-Catholics. With pleasure I congratulate you on this good work and express my hopes that your success will continue to increase.

With best wishes I am, sincerely yours in Xto.

JOHN BONZANO, Archbishop of Meltane, Apostolic Delegate.

Dear Rev. Father:

Fort Wayne, Indiana, March 23, 1912.

Your work of bringing home to our people the greater knowledge of the teachings of the Church and of the Catholic Church is for me an apostolic work, worthy of the highest commendation and encouragement.

Devotedly yours in Dominio.

H. J. ALBREGSG, Bishop of Fort Wayne, Indiana.

"WHITE PROTESTANT RULE."

"The cry for 'white Protestant rule' is no new thing in this country, nor in the world. It has been heard before, and most of those of an older generation will remember some of the excesses which were committed under the cover of this slogan. Today it is being raised again. What does it mean?"

infinite justice and wisdom merely because we, in our state of ignorance, do not understand infinite Providence. The finite, fallible minds of the most learned men are childish compared to the infinite wisdom of God.

"My life is but a weaving between my God and me; I may but choose the colors—He worketh steadily. Full oft He weaveth sorrow, and I, in foolish pride, forget He sees the upper, and I the under side."

—Father Tabb.

Readers Speak to Readers

Chicago, July 10, 1922.

To the Editor of Our Sunday Visitor:

Huntington, Ind.

Today's issue of OUR SUNDAY VISITOR has on its front page prominently displayed under "Latest Data on All Countries," what purports to be a historical sketch of Ireland.

You state towards the end of the sketch "in lieu thereof, early in 1922, Lloyd George offered a compromise in the form of a large measure of freedom under a government known as the Irish Free State, which the majority for they very seldom, if ever, read a Catholic paper. Therefore, when they are asked to explain some question, that comes up about their religion they are unable to do so, due to the fact that they never read a Catholic paper. There isn't any extry use for any Catholic not knowing his or her religion, while there is such a paper in print as Our Sunday Visitor.

We should all strive to know our holy religion better because we may be called upon at any time to give an account of the faith that is with us.
